

Exchange Traded Funds Provider of the Year Award

December 2021

What is the Exchange Traded Funds - Provider of the Year Award?

Canstar's Exchange Traded Funds - Provider of the Year Award involves a sophisticated and unique methodology that compares providers of Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) across their range of available ETFs and the resources that they provide consumers to assist in making better investment decisions. Canstar's Exchange Traded Funds award recognises the ETF provider that has cumulatively scored highest in the assessment which recognises how closely an ETF tracks its benchmark, associated costs and fees as well as the information and educational support that they provide to investors.

Eligibility requirements for the Exchange Traded Funds - Provider of the Year Award

To be eligible for the Canstar Exchange Traded Funds - Provider of the Year Award, a fund must:

- Be open to new investors.
- Not be a hedge fund or a Managed Fund.
- Must have an ETF present in the five investment categories (Equity Australia, Equity Australia Strategy, Equity Global, Equity Global Strategy and Fixed Income Australia).
- Eligible ETFs must have been available for 12 months

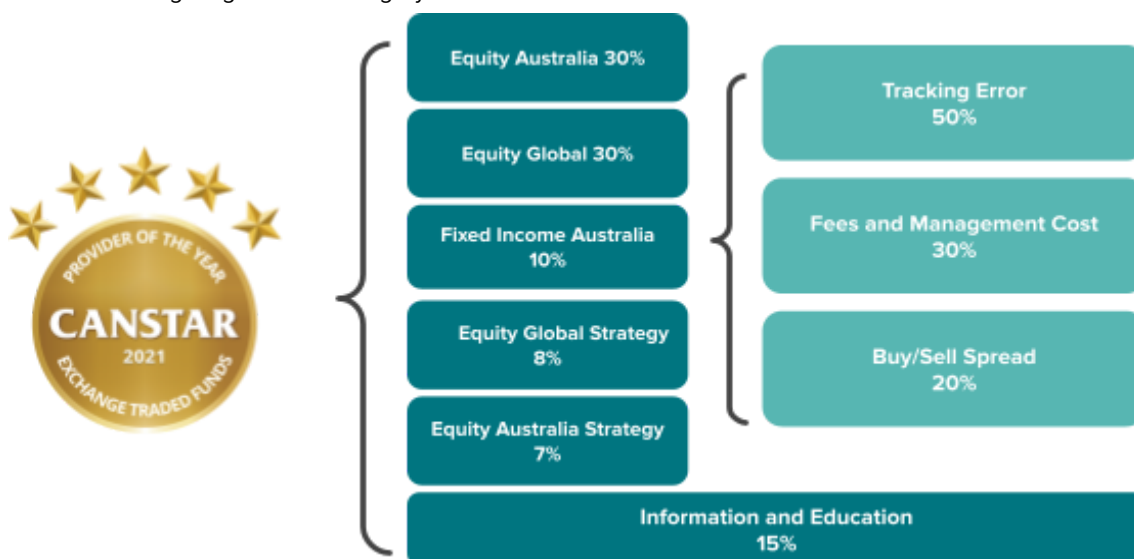

Award Methodology

Each eligible provider is awarded points for the five investment categories assessed as well as the information and education that the provider offers to consumers. The five investment categories assessed are:

- Equity Australia
- Equity Australia Strategy
- Equity Global
- Equity Global Strategy
- Fixed Income Australia

To arrive at the total score, Canstar applies a weight to each investment category and a providers Information and Education score. The institution with the highest cumulative score is recognised as the Provider of the Year – Exchange Traded Funds.

The breakdown of weighting for each category is as follows:

For each investment category, the best performing ETF from each provider is used to assess a provider's performance within the investment category.

All ETFs from eligible providers are evaluated and scored based on their relative performance against other eligible ETFs on the following metrics:

- Tracking Error
- Buy/Sell Spread
- Fees and Management Cost

Tracking Error

The tracking error considers the absolute value difference between an ETF's gross performance relative to the benchmark it is tracking, for twelve monthly observations ending on June 30th. The fund with the smallest average tracking error is allocated the maximum score, with all remaining ETFs scored against it.

Fees and Management Cost

The Fees and Management Cost considers the weighted average of management fees for the past 12-month period, with the lowest cost receiving the highest score, and all remaining ETFs scored against it.

Buy/Sell Spread

When consumers are investing or withdrawing from an ETF a Buy/Sell Spread can be applied on transactions to account for the costs to buy or sell underlying assets. This spread is a percentage of the ETF price that is added onto or removed from the price that a consumer will invest in or withdraw from an ETF at. Canstar collects the Buy/Sell Spread data from ASX monthly fund statistic updates and considers the weighted average monthly buy/sell spread of the ETF for the past 12-month period, with the lowest spread receiving the highest score.

Information and Education

The Information and Education category considers the availability of educational resources, the depth of transparency of reporting and the availability of fund details to consumers. Individual features are allocated points based on their relative importance with the provider with the highest number of points in this category receiving the maximum weighted score, with all remaining products within the profile scored against it.
